

HELP US CUT THE RIBBON

Alumni are invited to take part in the ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the new turf surface at the Celentano Athletic Field, adjacent to McAuliffe Hall, on Wednesday, August 31 at 3 p.m. The renovation of the field includes a new walking track for the College and New Haven communities, updated scoreboard and sound system. With the new field, Albertus will add women's and men's lacrosse as a club sport in spring 2012 and begin varsity competition in 2013.

Welcome, New Students

Members of the Class of 2015 will arrive on campus for an orientation program August 28-30. Classes for all traditional undergraduate students begin Wednesday, August 31. Returning students will find the interior of the Library at Rosary Hall transformed into a 21st century Learning Commons information center for individual research and collaborative study; a new space, it remains the heart of the College.

Sr. Anne Kilbride, O.P., Joins Staff

Sister Anne Kilbride, O.P., has been appointed to the position of Special Assistant to the President for Promotion of the Catholic, Dominican Heritage at Albertus. She came to the College this past spring as a consultant to gather ideas and make recommendations regarding new and creative ways to strengthen the College's long relationship with the Dominican

AATA Renews Approval

The College's Master of Arts in Art Therapy has received renewed full approval from the American Art Therapy Association (AATA). Originally granted full approval in 2003, the program was up for review last year. Approved program status indicates that the Albertus program meets the rigorous education standards of the American Art Therapy Association. The Albertus program is the only art therapy master's program in the state. Click here for info on the degree.
