ALBERTUS MAGNUS COLLEGE LIBRARY COMPUTER USE POLICY

The Albertus Magnus College Library supports the mission and goals of the college by providing services and resources students need to successfully complete their academic requirements and programs. The college library provides work stations that are intended for educational and non-commercial use only.

The library computers, which provide access to the academic databases and computer programs, may only be used by Albertus Magnus College students, faculty, staff, and alumni.

Alumni may charge out books and use the databases in the library; however they will be charged for printing. Alumni do not have access to the electronic resources off campus.
